

Environmental Policy

This environmental Policy covers all of the Company's business activities undertaken at its Adelaide, Darwin, Berri and Mount Gambier offices.

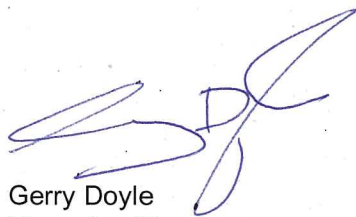

Tonkin Consulting is a responsible professional organisation that is active in providing consulting services related to civil infrastructure, water, the environment, structures, mapping and other areas.

We recognise that as a part of our operations we have a responsibility to demonstrate leadership by acting in an environmentally responsible manner, both in the way we manage our day to day activities and in the solutions that we develop for our clients.

As an environmentally responsible organisation we are committed to:

- Fully complying with all relevant environmental laws and regulations;
- Continuous improvement of our environmental performance;
- Actively seeking ways in which we can prevent pollution and minimise the environmental impact of our business operations, in particular greenhouse emissions and paper use; and
- When selecting Contractors and Suppliers we consider their commitment to Environmental Management.

The Managing Director is responsible for the review and implementation of this Policy through the Company's management systems and all employees are responsible for implementation of this Policy in their day to day work.

Gerry Doyle
Managing Director
August 2011